MUSLIM HANDS FAMINE IN AFRICA APPEAL

From Kenya to Niger and Mali to Malawi, Africa is slipping from a situation of terrible drought to one of hunger and famine.

Widespread and severe malnutrition may not have taken a hold yet, but the rains haven't come as expected and livestock are beginning to die in large numbers. Any further delay in the rainfall will almost certainly bring further hunger and famine to many millions of Africans.

According to recent UN reports, around 11 million people are in serious danger in Kenya, Ethiopia, Eritrea, Somalia and Malawi.

Surely we cannot wait till our TV screens are filled with images of masses of people starving and dying – we have a choice to respond now.

Muslim Hands has been running feeding centres in Niger, Mali and Sudan since June 2005, and we have now started feeding programmes in Malawi and Kenya. Please help us continue these feeding programmes.

Niger Food Distribution

MH has allocated £100,000 to the crisis but much more is needed. Please give today.
