

Education vs Poverty

Empower the poor

“Give a man a fish, he eats for a day...teach a man to fish, he feeds himself for the rest of his life”

Education is a fundamental right that every child and adult must be given.

Education empowers the weak and oppressed, and is also a most effective doorway out of poverty - hence it is one of Muslim Hands’ primary mandates.

We run educational projects in almost all of the 34 countries in which we operate. From small primary schools in remote villages to technical colleges for adults, with courses running from basic literacy to state recognised qualifications in IT etc - the projects are as diverse as the people they serve and tailored to their needs.

More help needed...

- Support poor students to higher education. In poor countries like Pakistan, this can be done for as little as £10 per month.
