More than 100,000 refugees receive aid at refugee camps in south Darfur

Darfur Sudan Crisis

"Darfur is a heartbreaking scene...

Listening to the horror stories...how they were beaten from their homes, how they walked for days without food or water and how tens of thousands are still sleeping in the open...makes me shudder"

T Nasir, Projects Manager, Darfur, Sudan.

Muslim Hands has been working in Sudan for over 10 years. Our office in Khartoum has been working with refugees in Darfur, concentrating aid efforts at the Kalima Camp and Mosai Camp. Your generous donations and projects MH runs on behalf of other charities are a life-line for the growing numbers of refugees at these camps.

The situation in Darfur is set to deteriorate further, irrespective of peace talks, as farmers have not been able to cultivate their lands before the rains, and a famine now looms.

School Feeding Programme

Emergency food distribution

Sanitation Team with insecticide pumps

The camps in Darfur need:

£10: Plastic sheet to protect tent.

£50: One latrine.
